ANOTHER TOWN TAKEN

American Forces Under Wheaton Capture Perez das Marinas.

IS SURROUNDED BY SWAMPS.

Report of Casualties in Raids of United States Troops Show That Five Were Killed and Twenty-three Wounded.

Manilla, June 20.—General Wheaton's command has renewed the attack upon Perez das Marinas. At an early hour they moved on the town.

The troops commanded by General Wheaton entered Perez das Marinas without opposition, except on the part of small bodies of Filipinos, who inflicted no losses upon the Americans. The town is an unimportant place surrounded by swamps and General Wheaton will probably return to Imus.

The latest list of the American casualties in Monday's fighting shows that five were killed and 23 wounded. The list includes no officers. The wounded were brought to Manilla from Baigor in boats.

WERE NOT ANNIHILATED.

Brave Band of Americans Fight Their Way Out of a Perilous Position.

Manilla, June 20.—A correspondent describing the battle near Perez das Marinas says: "While the American troops were in a sunken road, a force of insurgents attacked them on the left flank. The Americans retreated in good order for several miles. Finally, being reinforced by Robinson's battalion of the Fourth Infantry, they advanced upon the foe. Our loss during the day may amount to a total of 40 killed and wounded."

"Surrounded by 1,000 of the enemy, six miles from reinforcements, and with 1,000 more insurgents moving rapidly down on their left to make their annihilation complete, the First battalion of the Fourth Infantry, Major Budd commanding, in all 300 Americans, fought their way back from Perez das Marinas, three miles, toward their military base at Imus, where the rest of the Fourth came to their support. Reports were received that Das Marinas had been deserted by the insurgents. The alcalde of the place came to Imus and formally surrendered the town.

"The houses along the roadside were filled with amigos and the battalion advanced confidently until within three-fourths of a mile of Das Marinas, when they discovered the enemy paralleling the road at a long distance on both sides, and practically surrounding the little force. Natives began firing in the rear, and natives with white clothes were captured with guns in hand. The whole scheme was to wipe out the small body of American troops and might have succeeded, but for the marvelous courage of the troops and officers."

Report of General Otis.

Washington, June 20.—General Otis forwards the following: "Wheaton at Imus, Cavite province, with four guns, four battalions, Fourth and Fourteenth infantry, Nevada troop cavalry; sent battalion south on reconnaissance direction of Das Marinas Monday where enemy was reported as concentrating. We scattered forces, battalion encountered enemy's force, 2,000, marching to attack Imus, successfully impeding its progress. Wheaton, with two guns and two battalions, hurried forward; repulsed the enemy with heavy loss; enemy leaving over 100 dead on the field; our loss, five killed, 23 wounded. Wheaton was reinforced at night by battalion Ninth infantry, driving enemy beyond Das Marinas now in his possession. Casualties of this date not reported. Wheaton's qualities for bold and successful attack unsurpassed."

Will Sail for Manilla.

San Francisco, June 20.—Four transports will sail for Manilla within a week and the fifth will soon leave. The steamer Zealandia is now scheduled to sail on Thursday. The Sheridan and Pennsylvania will depart together Saturday and the Valencia will follow on Sunday. The Weyfield carrying only freight will depart early next week. The Zealandia will take part of the Twenty-fourth infantry and the Valencia will take the remainder.

Admiral Watson Reaches Manilla.

Manilla, June 20.—Rear Admiral John C. Watson arrived here on board the United States transport Zafiro, from Hongkong, and has raised his flag on the United States cruiser Baltimore. The commanders of all the warships called upon the admiral during the course of the day.

Tumblers resembling in shape and dimensions those employed today have been found in great numbers in Pompeii. They were made of gold, silver, glass, marble, agate and precious stones.

VIOLENCE EXHIBITED. Non-Union Conductors and Motormen Knocked Senseless.

Cleveland, Jun 20.—Cars ran on all lines opened by the street car company since the strike. The strong force of police was on hand to preserve order. No crowds were allowed to gather. The special commission of the city council, appointed to try to settle the street car strike, met the representatives of the strikers and the company. The members hope to open a way for the settlement of the trouble. Both sides were represented by attorneys and they were requested by the committee to state their respective positions in writing. Pending preparation of the formal statement a recess was taken. As has been the rule since the strike, serious disturbances broke out about noon. A crowd boarded a Wade Park avenue car near Lindus and Annandale avenues and beat the non-union motorman into insensibility. The conductor fled from his car. Another Wade Park avenue car was stoned and one on the Euclid avenue line was attacked. Many women were on board and shrieked with terror as the stones crashed through the car windows. One woman fainted.

The crew of Scovil avenue car No. 224 was badly beaten by 10 men. The car was on its way down town. At Wilson avenue one man got on, and at every crossing thereafter one or more men boarded the car until there were 10 passengers. When Harry C. Clark, the conductor, was taking up fares one of the men gave him a 50-cent piece. As Clark started to make the change, he was struck on the head from behind with a coupling pin in the hands of a passenger. Several of the other men jumped on him and pounded him into insensibility. The others turned their attention to the motorman whose name is John Clark. He was also hit on the head and body. He sank to the floor unconscious. By this time the car, running at high speed, had reached Hackman street and the men all left the car. A block further on the motorman recovered sufficiently to shut off the current and bring the car to a stop. After a short wait it was run back to the barn. Both men were badly hurt.

Motorman Used His Revolver.

Cleveland, June 20.—During a melee over the street car strike at the corner of Wilson avenue and Quincy street, one man was shot and others had narrow escapes. The passengers escaped as best they could when the stones began to fly, but the conductor and motorman were struck repeatedly. The latter drew a revolver and fired three times into the crowd. He then put on all speed and ran his car out of the mob's reach. George Berg, Jr., a striking conductor, was hit in the leg by a bullet, which was extracted. No arrests were made.

Music Teachers In Session.

Cincinnati, June 20.—The twenty-first annual convention of the Music Teachers' association began at Music hall. There is a very large attendance, with representatives from Europe as well as from all parts of America. The morning session was devoted to routine business and the afternoon to an organ recital at Music hall.

New Incorporations.

Columbus, O., June 20.—The National China company, East Liverpool, capital stock $100,000; the London Exchange bank, London, capital stock $60,000.

No Extra Session.

Washington, June 20.—Representative Cannon of Illinois, when asked if he thought Congress would meet earlier than December this year, replied: "No, I do not think there will be any occasion for it. Mr. Henderson will go into the speaker's chair with the approval of everybody. The party will be in splendid condition for effective work, and I look for a useful and profitable session."

From the Klondike.

Vancouver, B. C., June 20.—The steamer Dirigo arrived from Skagway, Alaska, with 50 Klondikers. Many of them claimed there was half a million dollars' worth of gold aboard, but the purser puts the amount at $150,000. One of the passengers named Freisen-ger confirms previous stories of loss of life on the Edmonton trail.

Colt's Fine Performance.

Chicago, June 20.—W. M. Hayes' 3-year-old colt Donald Bain, by Strathmore-Gladness, ran seven furlongs at the Hawthorne track in 1:25%. This is the fastest time ever made in the west, and the fastest with one exception ever made in the United States on other than a straightaway course.

Bill for Acquiring Property.

Berlin, June 20.—The bill authorizing the acquisition of the Caroline, La-drone and Pelew islands by Germany was submitted to the Reichstag.

SPEAKS TO GRADUATES

President McKinley Says Pretty Things to a Class of Girls.

DEGREE CONFERRED ON HIM.

Commencement Day at Mount Holyoke Attended by Many Distinguished People—Thousands Try to Shake His Hand.

South Hadley, Mass., June 20.—Commencement day at Mount Holyoke college was made a national event by the participation of President McKinley, who, with Mrs. McKinley, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Alien and the members of his official family, had come here to witness the graduation of Miss Grace McKinley, the president's niece.

Governor Roger Wolcott, Mrs. Wolcott and others of political and social prominence, also attended the exercises.

President McKinley presented the graduating class with their diplomas and degrees. The preparations for welcoming the visitors, although simple, were cordial and appropriate. The decorations about the town, particularly upon the houses near the college, were tasteful and picturesque. No attempt at general decoration of the college buildings had been made beyond the draping of a few American flags. The interior of the chapel, however, was adorned with flags and hunting, and the generous use of potted plants, palms and cut flowers produced a very pleasing effect. The town was crowded with visitors early in the day.

Although the limitations of the college chapel were well known to all residents in this section, the people seemed to expect that some how or other an opportunity would be given them to shake hands with the president and so the college grounds were thronged some time before the time scheduled for the beginning of the day's program.

President McKinley received the degree of Doctor of Laws from Mt. Holyoke college.

President McKinley said: "Mrs. Meade, Ladies and Gentlemen—I cannot refrain from making acknowledgment of the very distinguished honor which the board of trustees and officers of this institution have been pleased to confer upon me. I want to assure the young ladies of the graduating class that I am both delighted and honored to be a member of '99."

"Massachusetts has been and is first in many things, but nothing more than educational institutions. I count myself most fortunate to have been privileged to look upon the faces of the graduates of Smith college, that splendid institution of learning for the education of women, and I count myself most fortunate today to look upon the faces of this gloriously historic institution, that has done so much for the exaltation of women and whose influence is felt not only in Massachusetts, but in every part of our common country."

"Mt. Holyoke is more than 60 years old and the influence of this institution is moulding and shaping the citizens of the nation more than can ever be told."

"I am glad that we are demonstrating in the United States that the boy shall have no more advantages than the girl and that Holyoke and Smith and the half-dozen other institutions of the land are demonstrating that fact."

"An educated womanhood is an open school for citizenship every day of the year and the home is the training school for the mother, the soldier and the statesman. I wish for this graduating class all good things and I want you to be assured that all good things await a pure and noble woman."

Explosion of Magazine.

Atlanta, Ga., June 20.—Colonel Royal T. Frank, commanding the department of the Gulf, received a dispatch at noon from Lieutenant Horn, commanding officer at Fort Pickens, giving the information that one of the old style magazines at that post exploded. One man was killed by falling debris. The explosion was caused by a fire, which Colonel Frank thinks must have originated in the kitchen. Colonel Frank says the damage is not heavy.

The Cargo Lost.

Victoria, B. C., June 20.—The extent of the damage to the steamer Danube, which is aground on Denman's Island, is not yet known, but the greater part of her cargo will probably be lost. The channel side of the island, where the steamer is stranded, is exposed to heavy winds. The steamer Queen City, with a repairing plant will be dispatched to her companion liner's assistance.

Expected Arrival of Dreyfus.

Paris, June 20.—The approaching arrival of Dreyfus at Rennes is causing an influx of foreigners there. The hotels are besieged with applicants for rooms, which command immense prices. The arrangements for the conveyance of the prisoner from Brest, who is expected there Wednesday, have been made with the greatest care and it is believed there is no danger of demonstration.

HEILNER'S STATEMENT Respecting the Events That Occurred on the Brooklyn.

Washington, June 20.—Following the statement of Colonel Hodgson respecting the events that occurred on the bridge of the Brooklyn, July 3rd, the navy department published the following report from Captain Chadwick of his examination of Lieutenant Commander Heilner:

"In obedience to the orders of the secretary of the navy, I have the honor to make the following report of an examination of Lieutenant Commander Heilner with respect to his knowledge of a conversation reported to have occurred between Rear Admiral Schley and Lieutenant Commander Hodgson, reporting the action of July 3, 1898.

"Lieutenant Commander Heilner states as follows: At one of the early sessions of the board on ships positions during the action of July 3, I strongly expressed my doubt as to the Brooklyn's position before making the loop as laid down by Mr. Hodgson;

"several other navigators, Mr. Hodgson and I, on this particular occasion, walked up and down the port side of the cabin of the Brooklyn in which the board was sitting. It is my impression that Mr. Hodgson claimed that the Brooklyn was 1,100 yards from the leading Spanish ship when the turn was made. The board put it later, I think, at 1,400 yards. Mr. Hodgson told me that he felt certain they were closer than 1,400 yards, and that their stadiometer gave 800 yards. He said: 'We were so close that Schley gave the order 'Hard A'Port.' I said to him, 'You mean starboard, do you not?' The commodore said: 'No, I mean port; we are close enough to them now.'

"Mr. Hodgson then said he called attention to the position of the Texas and told the commodore he thought there was danger of running her down. The commodore replied: 'Damn the Texas; let her look out for herself.'

"This conversation was repeated to me on several occasions."

St. Louis Railway Dead.

St. Louis, June 20.—It is announced that as Governor Stephens has signed the street railway bill. The negotiations for a general consolidation of all the street railways of St. Louis, which have been in progress for sometime, are now practically completed, and a successful consummation is only a matter of a few days. The deal involves nearly $100,000,000 in all, and is the second largest street railway consolidation scheme ever undertaken. Brown Brothers of New York are said to be at the head of the consolidation.

Without the suburban, which has not yet come into the combine, the consolidated company will have 295 miles of single track, and including the suburban and new track to be constructed, they would have nearly 400 miles, forming the most comprehensive system of street railways in the world.

Fatal Duel of Bathers.

Pulaski, Va., June 20.—An unique duel between nude boys of 19 resulted in the death of both. It took place at Wygal's bridge, west on the Norfolk & Western railroad. John Raines and Madison Pratt were bathing with a party when Raines accidentally kicked Pratt. Angry words followed and both left the water, ran to their clothing, secured revolvers and began firing. Pratt died almost instantly, but Raines, who was shot in the abdomen, lingered until morning.

Serious Situation.

New York, June 20.—"The situation in the Philippines is very serious," said General Nelson A. Miles at the Waldorf-Astoria. "I know nothing concerning the story that the war department is suppressing the news from Manila. But everybody knows that things are very serious there. The question of issuing a call for volunteers has not, I believe, been decided. I do not care to discuss the Philippine matter. I am here on private business."

Reward Offered.

Frankfort, Ky., June 20.—Governor Bradley was in conference with Clay county citizens, discussing matters relative to the feud. Judge Eversole stated that he would vacate the bench and the governor will call a special term to try the two Bakers. Governor Bradley will send troops to attend the court. The special judge has not yet been appointed. The governor has offered a reward or the arrest and conviction of the unknown slayer of Tom Baker.

DELUGED WITH WATER

The Cities of Mansfield and Shelby Flooded by the Storm.

WASHOUTS ON RAILROADS.

Torrents of Rain Descend After Midnight, Turning the Black Fork Creek Into a Raging River, Overflowing the Principal Streets.

Mansfield, O., June 20.—Water rose six feet in the streets in the lower portions of the city after midnight as the result of a heavy storm which began at 7:30 and continued until after midnight. Washouts occurred on both the Erie and the Baltimore & Ohio roads. Two hundred people at the Casino were imprisoned by the water, which was too deep for cabs or other conveyances to rescue them.

Storm at Shelby.

Shelby, O., June 20.—One of the worst floods in Ohio occurred here. At 2 a.m. the people were awakened by the fire bell, whistles blowing and church bells ringing. The storm came from the southeast, and in less than a minute the quiet little Black Fork was a raging torrent. Business is at a standstill and the streets are crowded with people viewing the mighty flood. People residing on Black Fork street were taken from their homes on horses and by wading out. The livery barn of Ed Walters is flooded, and he came near losing some of his horses.

The scene on Main street and on Broadway can scarcely be realized by even the oldest inhabitants. Places where water was never known to have touched before were running streams. It is impossible to reach the postoffice yet. The B. & O. railroad is at a great loss, as a 40-foot break is noticed just above town at the place known as Rock's ice pond. Wires are down between here and Mansfield and traffic is demoralized.

OHIO DEPARTMENT.

Meeting of the Grand Army Members of Buckeye State. Youngstown, O., June 20.—The thirteenth annual state encampment of the G. A. R. Department of Ohio, began in the opera house. Mayor Moore delivered an address of welcome which was responded to by J. H. Winship, of Cleveland.

The sessions were devoted to Department Commander Pugh's address, reports of department officers and appointments of committees and to routine work.

Cleveland is working for the next encampment. It is stated an effort will be made to have Columbus made the permanent headquarters of the state encampment and a spirited fight against it is likely to result.

The active candidates for department commander are Postmaster Montfort, of Cincinnati, and T. R. Shinn, of Ashland. The Women's Relief corps and ladies of the G. A. R. are also holding conventions.

Proposed Academy of Music.

San Francisco, June 20.—Steps have been taken by representative colored citizens of San Francisco towards securing for the race a national academy of music to be located at Washington, D. C., or near the center of the negro population of America. At a meeting held at the Star King African Methodist Episcopal Zion church a committee was appointed to map out the plans of procedure and entrust them to David Lubin, a prominent Sacramento and San Francisco business man who will visit the east and promulgate the idea there.

Impression In the South.

Washington, June 20.—The industrial commission continued its investigation of the agricultural conditions of the south. Mr. J. Poole Brown, president of the Agricultural Society of Georgia, was the first witness. He agreed with Mr. Barrett that the condition of agriculture in the south was more depressed than it had ever been. More people were plowing barebacked and barefooted than ever before."

Gaschaland Suddenly Flooded.

Glasgow, June 20.—The Gaschaland pit in Ayrshire was suddenly flooded while a number of men were below. Fifteen of them are still missing.

INDICATIONS—Fair and continued
high temperature to-day, and probably Thursday; southwesterly winds.

It may be Stone against Stone in the Gubernatorial contest next November.

THE Democratic State convention convenes at Louisville to-day at noon. The latest from the scene is that Goebel and Stone have combined, with the probability that Stone will be the nominee, Goebel to name most of the State ticket.

It is asserted, however, that Stone can not deliver the delegates and that the combination will really help Hardin.

THE local correspondent of the Cincinnati Post says Republicans of this city will petition President McKinley to remove Civil Service Commissioner Proctor. Mr. Proctor may as well get ready to retire if the Post's local correspondent goes after him. They charge Mr. Proctor with being in collusion with Democrats here to prevent Republicans from passing the civil service examination. Probably what they want is some one who will "collude" with incompetent Republicans and place them on the eligible list, whether they are competent or not.

DAMAGING TESTIMONY.

P. E. Dowe, President of the National League of Commercial Travelers, gave some very startling testimony to Industrial Commission. He charged that the trust had thrown thousands of men out of work and had reduced the wages of hundreds and thousands of other employees, and gave figures to back up his assertion. And while the trusts had done this they had advanced the price of the various commodities that they controlled; that the trust combinations had raised the price of the commodities they controlled from 5 to 100 per cent. in almost every instance, except sugar and coffee. In these they were still fighting for control of the field. He said his figures in this line were absolutely correct, being from reliable commercial acquaintances.

The examples he gave were: Iron pipe, over 100 per cent.; tinware and enameled ware, about 33 per cent.; brass goods, 60 per cent.; chair, trust, just formed, will advance prices 30 per cent.; rubber overshoe (United States Rubber Company) advanced prices 14 per cent. on May 1; American Tin Plate Company advanced prices something like 30 per cent.; newspaper $\frac{1}{2}$ cent a pound, further advance in prospect; book papers 5 to 10 per cent.; an advance is expected in writing paper; in common soap, 25c. to 50c. a box; flint glass bottles will be advanced 10 per cent. or more; jobbers and manufacturers of clocks have advanced the wholesale prices on account of the advance of metals; all the metal goods have been advanced; brass pins, 25 per cent.; school furniture has gone up, as paper bags and wrapping paper.

This witness concluded by saying that before leaving New York he had been warned by an acquaintance, a lawyer, indirectly connected with some of the trusts, that he was doing a dangerous think in speaking before the commission, as he was liable to "be crushed like a caterpillar."

Memphis, Tenn., June 20.—An unexpected verdict was rendered when a white man of wealth and social influence was convicted by a jury in Judge Cooper's court of murder for the killing of a negro. Greenberry Redditt, a wealthy farmer of this county, shot Maggie Hobbs, a negro. The defense claimed that the woman was advancing on the man with a brick in her hand and the latter believing that his life was in danger, fired the fatal shot.

The jury, which was composed entirely of white citizens, returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree and Redditt was given 10 years in the penitentiary. The case was vigorously prosecuted by Attorney General M. R. Patterson, who made a strong plea for justice regardless of race prejudice.

CLARENCE MATHEWS, P. M.

APPEAL TO OUR CITIZENS.

The Y. M. C. A. Will Have to Suspend Unless the Needed Funds Are Subscribed.

To the Citizens of Maysville: After one day's systematic canvass we have been able to secure only one-third of the required amount for the running expenses of the Y. M. C. A. for the ensuing year.

Of this sum about one half was subscribed by the members of one church, one family alone subscribing one half thereof. It will thus be seen that an overwhelming majority of the people have not responded.

The past year has been the most successful in the history of the local association. Never have the running expenses been so small as now.

But the directors are determined not to continue unless the necessary amount of $900 for the coming year can be guaranteed. Being merely agents of the public, they feel that the good people of Maysville should know the situation. We lay it upon your hearts and consciences.

Fathers, do you care what becomes of your boys?

Mothers, have you no interest in their welfare?

Business men, are not our young men the city's most valuable assets? If not, why not? Whose fault is it?

Men of the churches, will you not come to the help of the cause that should enlist your deepest sympathy? Conceive the marvel effect of such a surrender to the forces of evil. Can you longer hesitate?

We venture to say our city would not recover from the effect of such a disaster in years. And yet we are now at the parting of the ways.

Before final action is taken, you are given one more chance to respond. If it is sufficient, the good work will go on; if not, it will be suspended. The responsibility rests with you. Who will help us?

J. T. KACKLEY,
A. D. COLE,
J. B. Wood, Executive Com.

KENTUCKY CROPS.

What the Weather Bureau Says of the Outlook in Its Weekly Bulletin—Grasshoppers Damaging Tobacco.

The first part of the week was warm with frequent showers, but the latter part cool and dry. The rains were rather unevenly distributed—some sections receiving but little, while in other localities farm work was delayed considerably by rain.

In most counties early wheat was being harvested during the latter part of the week and good progress was made. The yield of wheat will be very light in many localities, less than was expected, but the quality is good. Oats are doing fairly well, but are quite backward yet. Corn is generally doing very well; some early fields are already laid by.

Tobacco setting was generally completed during the early part of the week, and where not injured by the grasshoppers, is doing very well. The injury from grasshoppers has become very serious in some localities, some fields having been abandoned entirely on this account. Gardens are doing very well and vegetables of excellent quality are coming into the markets. Irish and sweet potatoes are doing very well. Early Irish potatoes are ready for the table in some localities and of excellent quality. Fruit is not very satisfactory. There was a good crop of strawberries, but they are now about over; and other fruits are rather scarce. Apples and pears are falling badly. Meadows and pastures are doing very well.

On account of the Kentucky Chan-tauqua, the L. and N. will sell round trip tickets to Lexington June 27th to July 7th at $2.75. Return limit July 9th.

CONRAD SMITH, Charles Shotwell and Walter Skinner charged with breaking open a C. and O. car and stealing a barrel of whisky were given a hearing in the Police Court Tuesday and were sent to jail in default of $300 bail to await trial at the next term of the Circuit Court.

LEWIS IRWIN, colored, died suddenly about 5 o'clock Tuesday evening on the road in front of his home on the Lexington pike. He had just reached home when he fell in a fit and soon expired. He had been a hard drinker, which, with the heat, probably brought on the attack that killed him. He will be buried this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Marchant and Harry Osborne, who were arrested for operating automobiles on Michigan avenue in violation of the recent ruling of the South park commissioners, came up before Justice Martin. Mr. Osborne withdrew his bail when his case was called in order to bring habeas corpus proceedings. This was done later and the case will be argued at once. The whole question of whether the South park commissioners have authority under the law to prohibit the operation of automobiles on the boulevards under their control will be argued in the habeas corpus proceedings brought by Mr. Osborn.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1. Trill bottles free at J. J. THE TURNPIKE QUESTION.

Board of Trade Committee Submits a Proposition to the City Council to Settle the Matter.

A called meeting of the City Council was held at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to consider a proposition from the Board of Trade Committee for a settlement of the vexed turnpike question. Mayor Stallcup presided and all the members were present. Mr. Harry Ort was elected Clerk pro tem., City Clerk Cox being out on other business.

The Mayor read the request and the call for the meeting and Judge Wall then presented the committee's proposition and addressed Council for some time urging its adoption.

Briefly, the committee had secured propositions from the companies, Col. Baldwin agreeing to let the county have the Germantown and the Lexington pikes for $52,000 and Mr. Pearce to sell the Mt. Sterling pike to the county for $22,000. The city owns 300 shares of stock in the Lexington and 100 shares in the Germantown road, and Col. Baldwin had agreed to accept this stock at $6,000 in part payment of the $52,000. The committee asked Council to donate or surrender this stock to the county to enable the Fiscal Court to effect a purchase of the roads which could then be accomplished with the bonds, premium on the bonds and by paying $8,700 in the form of a lease of the roads until next January.

It was urged that it would be best from every point of view for the city to surrender her stock, that her portion of the increased taxes for pay of guards would amount to $5,000 or $6,000 by next January, and then the increased trade by reason of free roads would offset the $6,000 many times over.

Members of the council had had but brief notice of the meeting and it was decided best to postpone action until tomorrow evening, and on motion of Mr. Parker council adjourned until Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

On motion Mayor Stallcup, Mr. Newell and Mr. Heiser were appointed to confer with the Board of Trade committee.

FROM FAR-OFF ROME

A Maysville Pastor Writes of Interesting Surroundings of the Ancient City.

A Pen-Picture of a Street Fair in the Home of the Caesars.

[Correspondence of the BULLETIN.]

The surroundings of Rome are exceedingly interesting to the student of antiquity. They possess historical value whilst charming the eye with visions of natural beauty and artistic memories. To the east of the city the spurs of the Appenines gently melt in the Roman plains in lines delicately tinted with the violet colors. The ancient Tibur, now known by the name of Tivoli, crowns the summit of a mountain fifteen miles away from the seven hills. Tradition has it that this town was built long before Romulus pitched his tents on the Palatine. In the course of centuries it became a part of the Latin confederation, and later on the retreat of Emperors, statesmen and scholars. Augustus built among the olive groves an imperial villa. Maecenas, Horace and other poets dreamed, composed and read their immortal verses in this Sylvan Elysium. One beautiful morning invited me and a friend to make a pilgrimage to Tivoli. The modern town is small, quiet and unobtrusive, but attractive for him who thinks of other days. At the southeast extremity there is one of the grandest falls to be seen in Italy. Between two enormous rocks the river Arno hurls its thundering waters from a height of more than three hundred feet. The roar of the rushing torrent is deafening. At the bottom an underground cavern, cut from the tumbling rocks, is supposed to have been the habitation of the Tiburtine Sibyl, so often mentioned by ancient writers. We sat there appalled by the strangeness of the place, almost expecting to see the forbidding face of that classic priestess. Two temples dedicated to her frown from either side of the chasm rent above by some convulsion of nature. There they stand the silent sentinels of many centuries. The force of the fall is so great that the Government has utilized it to generate the electric current by which the whole city of Rome is supplied with light. Descending the mountain whose sides are covered with olive trees, we visited the remains of "Villa Adriana," an art treasure of buildings rivaling if not surpassing in interest the remains of the palaces of the Caesars. The Emperor Hadrian conceived in his old age the gigantic plan of reproducing at the foot of Tivoli those magnificent edifices he had admired in his travels especially whilst in Greece. To this end he laid aside over two hundred acres of land which he covered with palaces, temples, porticos, basilicas and theaters built with imperial lavishness. More than sixteen centuries have elapsed and the remaining pillars and superb vaults still attest the splendor of the bold design. The galleries of Europe have been enriched by precious finds dug up in this classic quarry, but enough is extant to this day to astonish and charm the eye of the happy visitor. We walked on fragments of mosaic floors that must have taken years of patient work to construct them, and sat in the shade of noble porticos which once were resonant with the voice of princes and philosophers. These well preserved ruins give the world a faint idea of Roman greatness. Whilst inferior to the Greeks in the realization of aesthetic ideals, their stern conquerors were not deprived of the sense of beauty, which inflation of the mighty empire they expressed in gigantic lines never seen in Hellas. Set in a frame of cypress trees, tall and slender, having for a background the purple hue of lofty mountains, the columns and graceful arches of Villa Adriana conjure up the spirit of a glorious past. It is in hallowed spots like these that we can understand the evolution of civilizations one succeeding the other like the harmonious sequences of a grand musical theme.

A passing visit to a modern district of Rome brought me in contact with the living present. Not far from the ancient Subura entirely new quarters have been built. With the rapid increase of population consequent on the event of 1870 a real estate boom of the true American brand induced a malignant fever in the inexperienced souls of certain Roman celebrities. Houses without end in length and height began to rise on grounds formerly covered with vineyards and gardens. The supply soon exceeded the demand and a frightful crisis set in. Numerous buildings remained tenantless dooming their unhappy owners to financial ruin. On three sides of a large square, called "Piazza Giulio Pepe," most of the houses stare the beholder with a vacant look. The open space bounded by them has been appropriated by enterprising individuals with an eye to business. Little booths ugly, shapeless and irregular are huddled together in dizzy confusion. Under their crazy roofs all sorts of imaginable games and amusements go on to the infinite delight of the cheaper inhabitants of the third Rome. Here a loud-mouthed seer reveals the future known to him by the light of astral fire. Then a tragedian enacts the role of Napoleon before an appreciative audience that applauds ironically when real guns are fired. Marengo happened to be the battle-field of that day.

In another paste board temple, sacred to the Muses, the strains of a Chinese band accompanied the mellifluous voice of a street singer. The chorus of the spectators rose higher whenever the man howled at his best. He must have been pupil of Wagner. Near by some realistic mysteries of the so-called Spanish Inquisition were exhibited under a shed lined with rotten boards. A flying Dutchman spinning on the other side drowned the voice of the actors. The motive power of the painted horses and boxes was supplied by a fellow not entirely dressed in full evening costume, who alternatively turned a wheel and the handle of a grind-organ. Grown up babies of both sexes enjoyed the whirling sensation giving vent to their feelings in a vociferous manner. A group of idlers took a hand at a shooting target with the hope of winning a great prize promised to the ablest marksman. As the fashion of this country regards the knife and not the gun as the proper defensive and offensive weapon, few patrons gather around the place. Primitive torsorial parlors invited the hairy fraternity to be shorn of their curls at exceedingly popular prices, including a clean shave. I am told, but would not vouchsafe for the truth of the assertion, that to facilitate the shaving process in this district the same apple is introduced in the mouth of every patient. Science is not neglected here for I noticed shops where the latest researches of eminent men are exhibited and clearly explained. Improvised restaurants are supposed to tempt the hungry wayfarer with the dainties of cold dishes, whilst the vendor of Italian wine and Bavarian beer ministers to the wants of parched throats. Ice cream and lemonade stands are as thick as at a church festival. In the interstices of these smiling bowers myriad of little boys sit around selling sweet and bitter articles suited to the taste of all. The whole affair is unique in its nature. Imagine a vast mass of humanity surging in the best of humor in every direction, talking, laughing, singing and above all restirating as if the existence of a kingdom were at stake. Every shade and fashion of dress can be seen in this variegated panorama living and breathing as if with a single soul; with every fraction of that great unit seemed to me to have an independent value of its own perfectly unconscious of the existence of the rest. By mutual agreement the frequenters of this every day street fair have resigned to their aristocratic and rich fellow citizens the Piccadilly and other parks where superb equipages and elegant pedestrians are to be seen in the late hours of the afternoon. The plaza belongs exclusively to the children of the people on innocent pleasure bent. Having performed their daily tasks and laborious duties day after day they congregate here to amuse themselves. By quietly walking among the crowd with eyes and ears opened a golden opportunity is offered to study the social life and habits of a large contingent of Rome. This contingent is the successor of the one with which the imperial masters of the world had to reckon centuries ago. It was then a function of the State to give public games at certain times; individual imitation supplies now the demand. As I noticed perfect satisfaction beaming from the radiant faces of all, I felt that at least for the present there was no danger of revolution. Should those, however, who preside over the destinies of Italy forget that other and more important safeguards are necessary for the preservation of a nation a change may come over the spirit of the dream. "Panis et circenses" did not save Republican Rome from the horrors of civil war. A. T. ENNIS.
